

Everyone has that one difficult hard-to-shop for person, that person that's in need of...nothing. Although these have it all might be pleased with yet another massage or a shiny new ring, sometimes us gift givers want to up the ante, whether it be for Christmas or just a simple show of appreciation.

Go Get It Events and Proposals, the newest craze to hit Los Angeles, is the perfect recipe for such a dilemma. Specializing in elaborate romantic adventures and extreme scavenger hunts, Go Get It transforms the school day scavenger hunts of childhood into elaborate, mysterious and glamorous adventures.

Planting clues on CD's around the city, the Go Get It directors whisk the surprised adventure recipient away from their daily lives and lead them on a meticulously planned and themed "hunt" for the ultimate prize. Whether it is a partner on bended knee ready to propose or a group of friends waiting to celebrate a birthday, each hunt is customized for the particular client and their unique situation.

Rather than formulaic hunts, every escapade is unique and tailored to meet each occasion. An "engagement hunt" might include CD clues set to romantic music, a luxury town car for transportation, stops at the beauty salon, a massage and a new dress waiting in a deluxe hotel room. Anniversaries, birthdays, breaking big news and what Go Get It appropriately terms as "Doghouse Checkout," are just a few of the infinite number of occasions that call for a gift that goes above and beyond.

It's a gift that powerful enough to propose, seduce apologize or celebrate a special occasion with. With raving feedback from previous clients, Go Get It guarantees to please and pleasantly overwhelm any recipient, no matter how difficult a task it might be. Brentwood couldn't recommend a better gift, no matter who or what it's for. For more information call (323) 633-2049 or email click here.

-Jessica Hanscom